

University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
Sheldon B. Lubar School of Business

Assistant Professor of Organizational Behavior/Human Resource Management

The Sheldon B. Lubar School of Business at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Organization Behavior/Human Resource Management starting Fall of 2021.

Qualified candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Organizational Behavior, Human Resource Management, Business, Industrial-Organizational Psychology or a closely related field that reflects competency in Organizational Behavior or Human Resource Management. The Ph.D. must be earned from an accredited university and must be completed by August 2021. Candidates must exhibit a solid potential to publish in top-tier journals, show strong evidence of teaching abilities and have a specific interest in teaching courses in Organizational Behavior, Human Resource Management or Leadership and Team Building. Preference will be given to those with publications in quality journals and/or a strong research pipeline, those with a background in research methods, and those who desire to work with doctoral students. Preferred candidates will also have excellent communication skills, as evidenced by strong teaching evaluations, and an ability to work collegially and collaboratively in the school, university and business community. The Lubar School is committed to diversity, equity and inclusion and we are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups.

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee is a Carnegie R1 research university committed to our doctoral programs and academic excellence.
